The replacement sheet of Fig. 5 filed 09/25/2006 has been accepted.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by EP 0 933 663 (EP'663) cited by Applicant.

In this rejection, the recited phrase "being directly joined to the first transparent substrate (the second display element)" has been interpreted as to be consistent with the specification disclosure. According to the specification, page 10, lines 14-20, the reflective polarization 3 is joined directly to the liquid crystal panel 10 (to the first transparent substrate 11 of the LC panel 10) via an adhesive layer (not shown). As to claim 1, note Fig. 11 of the EP'663 which disclose a composite display unit having a first display element and a second display element that is provided overlapping the first display element 200, wherein the first display element comprises a liquid crystal panel in which a liquid crystal layer 20 is held between first and second transparent substrates (16, 18); and a reflective polarization plate 23 that transmits light that oscillates in a specified direction and reflects light that oscillates in a direction that is intersecting with the specified direction, the reflective polarization 23 is joined directly to the first transparent substrate 18 via an adhesive (diffusion) layer 46 ; and wherein the second transparent substrate 16 is directly joined to the second display element. The second display element (as broadly interpreted) comprises the polarization plate 22 as one of its elements, a liquid crystal layer 15 being held between third and fourth transparent substrates (11, 13). See discussions of the recited features in the text (page 10, paragraphs 0137-0145). For the adhesive (diffusion) layer 46, see paragraph 0119 of page 9. As to claim 2, the reflective polarization plate DBEF manufactured by Sumitomo 3M is constituted as a dielectric multi-layered film with birefringence. As to claims 3- 6, note the absorption polarization plate 21 being provided on the fourth transparent substrate 11 of the second LC display element. As to claim 7, see Figs.1-3.

Applicant's arguments with respect to amended claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
